5. The work of the Nomination Committee

The Nomination Committee should in accordance with the principles of good corporate governance ensure that due attention is paid to the interest of the shareholder community and the Company's requirements for competence, capacity and diversity. In assessing the qualifications of existing and prospective members of the Board, the Nomination Committee shall consider each member's integrity, experience, skills, independency, ability and willingness to devote time and effort necessary to be an effective member of the Board, and commitment to acting in the best interest of the Company and its shareholders.

The Nomination Committee shall obtain information necessary to evaluate existing and new members to the Board. The Nomination Committee should maintain contact with members of the Board and the management of the Company. If need of external advisors, the Nomination Committee needs approval from the Chairperson of the Board. The Nomination Committee should actively maintain contact with the shareholder community and have an active dialogue with larger shareholders well in advance of the AGM. Proposals to changes regarding members of the Board or the Nomination Committee received by any shareholder should be considered and evaluated by the Nomination Committee.

When the Nomination Committee considers new members of the Board, it should balance the need for continuity against the need for renewal. Emphasis will also be given to ensuring reasonable representation in terms of gender and background, and to the independence of members of the Board in relation to the Company.

The Nomination Committee's expenses are borne by the Company.

6. Processing of the recommendation from the Nomination Committee

The Nomination Committee's recommendation to the AGM shall be completed in ample time so that it can be communicated to the shareholders in advance of the meeting. The recommendation should preferably be sent together with the Notice of General Meeting. If that is not possible, shareholders should receive the recommendation by letter or by a press release.

The Nomination Committee must justify its recommendations and provide relevant information about the candidates. The Nomination Committee's recommendation should include information about the candidates' age, education, competence, experience and capacity. Any dissenting votes must be stated in the recommendation.
